The Democratic National Convention in Session—The Hall and the Preliminaries—Gossip.

The Grande Assemblée.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO, July 8.— The day opens auspiciously for all the purposes of a great convention held in the heat of July, save that there is a mist in the air which may grow into rain. The air is cool and bracing and summer apparel does not burden the person. The crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the great hall in which the democratic national convention is being held at an early hour of the day.
The door-keepers and ushers are reporting for duty at 8 o'clock with the people there in waiting to enter and to secure their seats. Inside of the auditorium, however, there was an approach to chaos, the laborers still being engaged in putting on the finishing touches, after having been employed during all of the preceding nights. They did not desert the main platform when the decorations were being hung to within half an hour of the time announced for the opening of the convention, when the workmen quitted the building and the scene was clear.

The picture presented was made pleasing and truly so with its setting of 14,000 seats in the vast amphitheater, which appeared to be occupied by an audience having its full quota of the fair portion of humanity in holiday attire. It is conceded that in picturesque arrangement and design the hall excels that of the convention of four weeks ago. The great vista of the old hall has been lost by the placing of the main stage at one side, midway of the extreme end of the hall, but the arrangement brings the audience very much closer to the stage proper.

The decorations are not profuse but striking and pleasing to the eye.
The delegates are seated in a square immediately fronting the platform. On the level of the convention hall, between the delegates and the platform, are the quarters assigned the press representatives, who have been provided with tables in rising tiers, affording the working army the most complete view imaginable of any incident likely to be provoked during the session. To the right and left of the delegates are the seats for the spectators rising upwards easily to a point thirty feet from the floor level. The only additional word to be offered in the way of description is that the lighting of the vast hall is complete, being flanked and crowned with great windows, which pour their flood of light upon every portion of the auditorium, even with a dull leaden sky overhead.

FILLING THE HALL.

At 11:30 the scarlet-coated band of the First Illinois regiment took a position above the speaker's platform and burst forth with a martial air, which also proved to be the signal for the arrival of the first of the delegates, the Tennesseans leading the van. From that moment the crowd streamed in without ceasing until about the noon hour, when the hall had its full complement of people.

POINTING TO McDONALD.

The breach in the ranks of the New York delegation, as indicated in these dispatches last night, is being used for a very effective weapon by the opponents of Mr. Cleveland and there is now every thing to indicate that the present temper of the southern delegates is toward Bayard or McDonald and to this end those who have been startled at the size and character of the Cleveland movement are now working. Indiana is being urged to stand by their favorite and not be tempted from their present mode of action by a vice-presidential offer. Speaker Carlisle arrived from Washington this morning and goes to swell the active force of revenue reformers now on the ground. This committee on resolutions is generally regarded as having a majority for a conservative platform. It contains, however, the extremists of both views and a number whose position has not been clearly defined in any action of the convention.

TO BE FOUGHT ON THE FLOOR.

There will be majority and minority report and it is now believed that the subject may have to be fought out on the floor of the convention. Another of the things which now appear to be certain to occur, is a fight in open convention over the unit rule and, notwithstanding the claims made yesterday by the Tammany people, the Cleveland people declare they are ready for this contest also and will defeat it by a handsome majority.

THE FIRST STORM OF APPLAUSE.

The approach of the hour for the assembling of the convention was marked by the arrival of delegates in large bodies and a great concourse of people at the doorway, which provoked confusion.
The arrival of the California delegation, carrying a banner at their head, provoked a burst of enthusiasm in the body of the audience and the cheering was hearty. The presence of distinguished leaders among the delegates did not appear to be caught by the crowd and there was no applause to mark their arrival. This held true until the familiar
covered, when cheers arose which swelled into a roar as the audience came to know the meaning of the applauding. While the excitement was at its height a California delegate made an attempt to address Thurman, who was not yet in his place, and said: "The California delegation, after traveling 2,500 miles, catches its first glimpse of paradise in the person of Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio." [Cheers.] Soon afterwards, when the band struck up "Dixie," there was another great burst of enthusiasm from the Southern delegations and as the opening of the applause was understood, it was taken up by the audience.

Among the United States senators present either as delegates, alternates or simply spectators, were Hampton, Vance, Beck, Williams, McPherson, Gorman, Farley, Voorhees, Pendleton, Jones of Florida, Ransom, Lamar, Jones, Call and Harris.

READY FOR WORK.

At 12:40 the convention was called to order by ex-Senator Barnum, chairman of the national democratic committee.
Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. D. C.
Marquis, of the new Theological Seminary.
He prayed for a blessing on this great assembly, that they should be endowed plentifully with that wisdom which is first pure, then pleasurable and gentle and easy to be entreated. That nothing should be done through strife or vain jealousy, but that they should be filled with that charity which is not puffed up and does not behave itself unseemly. He urged that their deliberations would be guided by such conclusions as would best promote the glory of God and the welfare of the nation.

The chairman said: "Gentlemen of the convention: Harmony seems to be the sentiment of this convention. Even the air seems saturated with a desire and a determination to nominate a ticket for president and vice president which will be satisfactory to the north and the south, to the east and the west, Nay, more—a ticket that will harmonize the democracy throughout the Union and insure victory in November. Harmony prevailed in the deliberations of the national committee. No effort was made to nominate a temporary chairman in the interest of any candidate; but, on the contrary, one who shall preside over the deliberations of this convention with absolute impartiality. In that spirit and to that end I have been directed by the unanimous vote of the national committee, to name the Hon. Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, for temporary chairman of this convention. As many as favor the election of Hon. Richard B. Hubbard for temporary chairman will say, aye. Contrary, no. Hon. R. B.
Hubbard, of Texas, is unanimously elected temporary chairman of this convention. The chair appoints Senator B. F. Jones, of Louisiana; George T.
Barnes, of Georgia, and Hon. Abraham S. Hewitt, of New York, a committee to wait on Mr. Hubbard and conduct him to the chair.

"Gentlemen of the convention, I have the distinguished honor of presenting to this convention Hon. Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, elected absolutely and impartial temporary chairman of this convention."

Mr. Hubbard on taking the chair gave thanks for the honor done him and which he accepted not as a tribute to himself but as a compliment to the great state from which he came, a state which was absolutely cosmopolitan in every fibre.
The democratic party in all its elements was the same as it was when founded by the framers of the constitution nearly three quarters of a century ago. Mr.
Hubbard said the leaves in the autumn had principles underlying liberty and self-government were eternal and the principle that underlay the democratic party could not perish from the earth although their authors might cease to be. (Applause.) The democratic party was to-day as much of a party organized for aggressive war as when victory perched upon its banners.
The democratic party had the house of representatives and would have had the senate but for treason in the senate itself. (Cheers.) It would have had the presidency too, but for the hands of robbers, who struck down the expressed will of the people by means of perjury, bribery and corruption. The presidency had been stolen from the democratic party by men uttering falsehoods through pale lips and chattering teeth.
Some of the men who had participated in the crime had passed beyond the river, there to give an account of their stewardship. The stealing of the presidency was the greatest crime in the nation's history. The great leaders of the party, Tilden and Hendricks, with the dignity which became heroic statesmen and patriots, had submitted with the courage of men who love their country better than self and power. [Cheers.] The democratic party now would reform and should put forward candidates whose names would be in themselves a platform.
It wanted a platform too that would speak in no doubtful tones or as a Delphic. It should declare against the corruption in the government; against the enormities of the civil service; against the so-called department of justice; against the abuses of the postal service; against robbery in high places, that the burdens of the government should be based equally and equitably on all classes of the people and that the hundred millions of surplus revenue should not be allowed to accumulate.

In conclusion he urged that whatever candidates were nominated should be supported loyally, declaring that "he who would not so support them would not be a good democrat and hardly a patriot." (Applause.)

THE GAVEL.

The gavel which a democratic lady of Boston has sent to Chicago is a handsome piece of workmanship. The handle, which is about ten inches long, is made of palmetto wood from South Carolina.
The two ends of the head are made from wood of the famous Charter oak, at Hartford, Conn., in which the charter granted May 10, 1662, was deposited October 31, 1687. The tree fell July 21, 1856, and the piece in the gavel was presented to the lady's husband at that time.
The center of the head is hexagonal in shape, with fine inlaid panels, each about an inch long. The first panel is a piece of Gen. Israel Putnam's birth torch, which was found in the Wolf's den at Pondre, Conn., by a boy, who when he was an old man, presented it to the lady's husband, who was the first commander of the Putnam phalanx. The second panel is a piece of marble taken from the ruins of Chios Juitus Caesar's palace at Rome by the lady herself. The third is a piece of wood from President Lincoln's log cabin. The fourth is a piece of porphyry wood from the tomb of George Washington, on the banks of the Potomac, and the fifth is from the old elm on Boston common. About the handle is a silver ring, on one side of which is the motto "In Union There is Strength," and on the other the name and address of the donor. The lady has placed the gavel in trust with a member of the state board of education, with letters to be conveyed, through the proper channels, to be permanent chairman of the democratic convention, and by him to be presented, finally, to the nominee, who will, no doubt, value it most highly.

THE STATE ORGANIZATIONS.

The complete organization of Indiana is: Chairman, Thomas O. Hendricks; secretary, Harry Meyer; credentials, Cyrus T. McNitt; resolutions, G. V.
Menzie; organization, James D. Brown; vice-president, Peter Lieber.

South Carolina chose Wade Hampton as chairman, L. F. Yeomans for the committee on resolutions, and F. W. Dawson as member of the national committee.

The Illinois delegation chose John M.
Palmer as chairman, S. C. Judd as member of the national committee, and William R. Morrison as member of the committee on resolutions.

Ohio chose John R. McLean for chairman of the delegation, Mr. Shields as member of the credential committee, Durbin Ward as member of the committee on permanent organization, and W.
D. Shaw as member of the committee on rules and order of business.

JOHN KELLY'S CAREER.

John Kelly was an original Tammany chief when William M. Tweed was its grand sachem, just after the war. When Tweed, Connolly, Sweeney, A. Oakley Hall and the "ring" began their deliverance system of robbery of the city and county of New York Mr. Kelly refused to become a partner with them and withdrew from the society. After the Tweed ring was overthrown and its guilty members proscribed, a committee of seventy was organized to wipe from the statute books the Tweed laws and run public affairs with honest objects in view. Gen.
John A. Dix was made governor through the influence of this committee of seventy. While at the height of its power Mr. Kelly was earnestly solicited to become a member of the committee, but he declined because it was associated with the Union League. He was born a democrat, he said, and meant to live and die one. Mr. Kelly maintained that the city of New York never could be successfully and honestly governed by a fusion party. Being repeatedly urged by leading democrats to unite with them in redeeming Tammany Hall and the disgraced democratic party of the city, county and state, Mr. Kelly consented and then began a political struggle which perhaps has never had its equal in the union. Notwithstanding Tweed, Connolly, Garvey and other members of the old ring were fugitives from justice; notwithstanding the very name of Tammany was a stench in the nostrils of every honest man, Kelly and his associates found the old Tweed conspirators intruded in the courts, in the fast sinecures of the city and county. At the annual election in 1872 Augustus Schell was elected grand sachem, Samuel J. Tilden, John Kelly, Horatio Seymour, Sanford B.
Church, August Belmont and Abram S.
Hewitt, sachems. Thus regenerated, Tammany Hall, with John Kelly as leader, nominated and elected Samuel J.
Tilden governor of New York in 1874.
Mr. Tilden has frequently declared that strong will, compelled him to leave his chosen sphere of the private station, and to accept the nomination for governor in 1874.

Finally at the election in 1872 the offices were filled with men which completely revolutionized the work of Tammany Hall and which finally established Mr. Kelly's supremacy. In the same year he was urged to accept the position of chairman of the national democratic committee, but declined, and his lifelong friend, Augustus Schell, was chosen for the position.

In 1876 Mr. Kelly was made comptroller of the City of New York. The debt, then, exceeded a hundred million dollars, but in four years he reduced it to $12,000,000.

Establishing the Preliminaries.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The rest of the temporary organization having then been announced, Smalley, of Vermont, a member of the national committee, offered a resolution that the rules of the last democratic convention govern this body except that in voting for candidates no state should be allowed to change its vote until the roll of states had been called and until every state had cast its vote. Grady, of New York, offered as an amendment the following: And when the vote of a state, as announced by the chairman of the delegation of such state is challenged by any member of the delegation; then the secretary shall call the names of the individual delegates from the state and their individual preference as expressed shall be recorded as the vote of such state. (Applause.)

John B. Fellows, of New York, said that the convention of his state had directed that in compliance with established usage in that state, the sentiment of its majority should be first ascertained, that having been done, the vote of the New York delegation should be thereafter cast as a unit. The convention of New York having placed upon its delegates that trust he challenged the right of this convention to strip the New York delegates of the rights thereby conferred. Such action would not pass without protest from at least some of the members of that body. The speaker then read the instructions to act as a unit passed by the Saragosa convention.

Grady said there was great danger that through the political machinery the honest votes of New York would be stifled.
(Sensation, cheers and hisses.) (Grady said the newspapers had been brought to print at the head of their columns: "New York's seventy-two votes were united," which was untrue. If the democratic party wanted the votes of the people it represented it must give voice to their appeals. Grady closed with an eloquent appeal that all New York should have the right to be heard in the convention.

Doellittle, of Wisconsin, said: "A state has the right in its convention to say how it shall be represented." He favored leaving the matter with New York.
Cochran said the question as to whom New York should vote for did not come up in the state convention is the reason no protest was made. Clancy, of California, spoke in favor of Grady's amendment. Powers, of Michigan, in speaking in favor of the Grady amendment, said: "It was a great democratic principle that the humblest district should be represented."

Carter Harrison, mayor of Chicago, took the floor and was received with cheers. He said the convention had nothing to do with the state instructions and that every delegate had a right to be heard. Jacobs, of New York, spoke against the amendment, saying "he bows to the superior will and power of the state, though the amendment was in accordance with his feelings."

John Kelly arose and was received with cheers. He thanked the convention for the liberal view expressed. He said the action of the state left him no alternative but to appeal to the convention.
He hoped that the counties interested would not be disfranchised. Fellows said there was a misconception of the question. The question is, whether New York has the right to say how the will of her majority shall be indicated.

Menzie, of Indiana, offered as an amendment to the amendment that no state shall change its vote until the result of the ballot has been announced.

A motion to lay the amendment on the table was withdrawn and the previous question was moved and seconded.
The amendment moved by Menzie, of Indiana, was withdrawn and the convention proceeded to vote on the amendment offered by Grady, of New York requiring the individual preference of delegates to be recorded on the votes of their states.
There was great interest manifested during the taking of the vote. The vote of the state of New York was withheld temporarily and when the other states were called the aggregate, without New York, stood—ayes 332, nays 391. The vote of New York was then called for, and Manning, the chairman of the delegation, announced 72 votes in the negative.
That vote was challenged by Cochran, but the temporary chairman had this vote recorded as announced. The general result was then announced as ayes 350; nays 440. A vote was then taken on the original resolution offered by Smalley, of Vermont, and it was adopted.

8:42 p. m.—A resolution that in the vote for candidates no state shall be allowed to change its vote during the roll call was carried.

A resolution was then offered and adopted for the appointment of a committee on credentials and permanent organization. A committee on platform was also ordered, and it was ordered that all resolutions in regard to the platform be referred to that committee without discussion.

Francis, of Missouri, moved that when the convention adjourn it be till eleven o'clock to-morrow. The motion prevailed.

The secretary announced a correction of the vote on the Grady amendment, viz.: Total vote cast, 705; for the amendment, 332; against, 463; not voting, 7.
Adjourned.

COLORADO'S CHOICE.

Colonel Atkins, of the Colorado delegation, stated last night, in speaking of the attitude of the Colorado delegation, that the members will vote solid for the man whose chances of election are the best. Their first choice is Cleveland, although one or two members of the delegation, notably Governor Grant, are original McDonald men. "If New York will put forward Cleveland or any other man in such a manner as to insure his nomination," said Colonel Atkins, "the delegation will support him. There is no question but the first choice, from preference, of the entire delegation is Mr. Cleveland, and Mr.
McDonald is second choice. From the present outlook I would say that Mr.
McDonald will be given the second place on the Cleveland ticket should the latter be nominated. This would make the strongest ticket we could put against Blaine and Logan."

RANDALL'S VIEWS.

Fremont, July 8.—Samuel J. Randall, on route to Chicago, passed through here this morning on the fast line. In an interview he said: "As the democratic party is largely composed of workingmen a moderate tariff plank must be inserted in the platform, and he was going to Chicago to see his influence to that end." He was of the opinion that the convention would be in session a week.

HENRY COLEBICK'S RESOLUTION.

Besides effecting an organization last night, the Indiana delegates had several questions sprung on them which promised some excitement, but were all amiably arranged. The following resolution was offered by Henry Colebick, of the Twelfth district:

Resolved, That we are in favor of the enactment of laws that will give organized labor the same protection as is now given by law to combined capital.
Senator Voorhees moved its adoption in a fifteen-minute speech. The only member of the delegation who spoke adversely to its passage was Oscar R. Ford, of the Indianapolis district. The resolution was adopted and Senator Menzie instructed to urge its incorporation in the platform in a proper shape.

BUTLER FOR THE NOMINEE.

addressed by General Butler, to whom he said: "I will support the nominee of RHEUMATISM "HAD" HIM!

"No," replied a sufferer, racked with cruel pain and bitter torment, "I haven't Rheumatism, but I have the effects of it!"

And what a terrible grip Rheumatism has, when it takes hold of the victim! It is not unusual to meet people who have been tormented by this cruel and insidious disease, and who, in the face of the fact that it could never be cured, have nevertheless been cured.

Rheumatism comes from poison in the blood. The doctors have wrestled with it in vain. They have found their prescriptions powerless to subdue it. ATHLOPHOROS has won the victory.

Mr. D. G. Stratton, of New London Conn., was long a victim to Sciatic Rheumatism, so that he could not walk. In twenty-four hours ATHLOPHOROS set him on his feet and took away his pain.

Mr. Godwin, of Crumpton, Md., was a sufferer to a frightful extent with Rheumatism. The change wrought in him by ATHLOPHOROS has astonished the community where he is so well known.

The Rev. Mr. Beecher, of Chicago, brother of Henry Ward Beecher, has been afflicted with Chronic Rheumatism. He writes that ATHLOPHOROS "has removed all the sharp pains" and that he "feels much better than he has for years."

ATHLOPHOROS "CURED" HIM

If you combat ATHLOPHOROS of your Rheumatism, you will find it express paid, in receipt of regular price-one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be misled by any cheap imitations, but order at once from us as directed.

It is almost time for the vote taken on the train to put in an appearance.

These people are beginning to learn that Mr. Tilden's refusal was final and irrevocable.

The nominees of the democratic convention will receive the full endorsement of the party.

GROVER CLEGG had fourteen men arrested at Berea, Ohio, for serenading him at his wedding.

The Emperor Dom Pedro, of Brazil, has reigned fifty-three years. He was only six years old when he ascended the throne.

This supplement to the Chicago Times of yesterday was filled with Cleveland's life and works. It was a new dodge in advertising.

We haven't heard of Mr. Blaine attending any college commencement this week. He is more interested in the Chicago commencement.

After the republican nomination it is rather surprising with what suddenness President Arthur discovered a large number of vacancies within his gift.

"With a Pittsburg man to raise the money and a star route speculator to spend it, the republican national committee is ready for the campaign," says the Philadelphia Times (Ind.).

CARTER HARRISON is different from most men. The more he is abused by certain classes, the more popular he becomes. This is the man, "Our Carter," who will create a little revolution in Illinois this fall.

VICTORIA has healthily begun the forty-eighth year of her reign and her only predecessors in holding the throne for remarkably long periods were Henry III., Edward III. and George III., respectively for fifty-six, fifty and sixty years.

If the territorial delegates are allowed representation in the Chicago convention, the number of votes necessary to secure a nomination under the two-thirds rule will be 543. If they are not permitted to vote the number necessary to a nomination will be 534.

Mr. BLAINE hopes to counteract the effect of the democratic nomination by the publication of his letter of acceptance. Logan wants to publish his but does not dare to until his chief speaks, and then we will hear something interesting about tattoo and the Zuni Indians.

"While the Blaine organs are exulting over the veto and defeat of the Fitz John Porter bill," says the Grand Rapids Democrat, "it is well known that Wm. Walter Phelps, Blaine's staunchest defender, is General Porter's closest friend, and that Blaine himself would probably not veto a bill such as Arthur refused to sign."

HON. HENRY COLERICK, delegate from this district to the national democratic convention, was asked by a Chicago Times reporter yesterday what he thought of the tariff plank in the democratic platform. "Well," said Mr. Colerick, "that requires about as much thought as the ticket. I believe the party has unalterably committed itself in favor of a tariff for revenue only. It is right, just, and consistent and honest for the national democracy to so declare."

THE CONVENTION.

The democracy of the country met in convention to-day at Chicago to name the candidates for president and vice-president of the United States. The eyes of the entire land are turned upon Chicago for the result of this convention is of interest to every citizen, whatever his nationality or his political faith. It means the opening of a vigorous campaign and largely dependent upon the deliberations of this body rests the success and failure of the party in the coming canvass.

So far the preliminary work gives promise of deliberation and the careful exercise of political judgment and prudence in the convention. There has been no such scenes as characterized the convention held in the same city but a few weeks before, but a spirit of harmony and a desire to do that which is best for the party has characterized the work of all delegations. There is no personal animosity towards any candidate and the opposition manifested is honest and is made known only because others are believed to be stronger and would be a better selection. This is promising and leads to the belief that the entire convention will be characterized by the same spirit and the same desires.

At this early stage it is impossible to make a prediction as to the final result. There is a strong opposition to Cleveland in his own state, but it is highly probable that he will show the greatest strength on the first ballot. Indications also point to the fact that McDonald will come in as second, so far as votes on the first ballot are concerned, with Bayard closely following. The remainder of the convention's strength will be divided among the various other candidates.

This position will not be long maintained and after the first ballot it is thought that McDonald will gain greatly, and if the opposition to Cleveland is continued by his own state, that is to say if the unit rule is not enforced, it would not be surprising if Indiana's candidate should receive the nomination on the fourth or fifth ballot. This is the result obtained from the analysis of the situation up to last night. To-day's work may change the entire current, but whatever change may come there is good reason to believe that it will be to the benefit of the man whom Indiana will name for the position. His friends are encouraged and his popularity is certainly increasing.

CONGRESS adjourned yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. During its session there have been introduced in the senate 2,267 bills and ninety-seven joint resolutions, and in the house, 7,507 bills and 224 resolutions. Of these sixty-eight senate bills and ten senate resolutions have passed both houses and become laws by executive approval, and sixty-two house bills and thirty-two house resolutions have become laws in the same manner. Three house bills have also become laws without the action of the president, and one has been returned with his veto. Of measures introduced in the senate, 368 bills and seventeen joint resolutions were indefinitely postponed; and six bills laid upon the table. In the house fourteen bills and three joint resolutions were postponed indefinitely.

"FOR" of the republican and independent papers that have belittled Blaine have a circulation of 1,720,000. That is a pretty large audience, but allowing three readers to every copy circulated—certainly a moderate estimate—it will be seen that these papers reach over 5,000,000 people who have been in the habit of attaching much weight to their opinions. It must be admitted that these journals addressing their arguments, ably as they do, to such a vast constituency, must prove no insignificant power in the campaign, despite the affected sneers of the Blaineites."

In speaking of the veto of the Fitz John Porter bill the St. Paul Pioneer-Press, republican, says: "By the act of the president, an innocent man is denied the reparation so long his due. But he stands acquitted by the voice of his countrymen; nor will justice rest until the stain of his sentence shall be effaced, not from his fame, which is already cleared, but from the records of the nation, where ignorance and prejudice would have it remain a blot forever."

It is said that Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, has engaged a page of the Chicago Times and with his full editorial force will reproduce the editorial page of the Courier-Journal in the Times. This is a new feature in newspaper work.

Never before has a political convention been so largely attended as the one now in session at Chicago. The democratic party presents rather an animated appearance for a party without principle, as was a local sheet unthoughtfully asserted.

GOVERNOR HENDRICKS has again asserted that he will place McDonald in nomination in spite of the statements of the republican press, who fear his power.

HARMONY reigns supreme even in the Ohio delegation and when it is recorded there it is pretty certain to be the motto all along the line.

This democratic convention is composed of representative men. The leaders of the party are there.

Correspondence of THE SENTINEL.
The wheat crop will be an average yield.
Mr. Rhobuck, formerly of this place, now of Delphos, Ohio, spent the Fourth in this place.
J. R. Nizer is at Chicago on business. He will attend the convention.
The democrats of this vicinity express their intention of supporting the full democratic ticket. Monroe, the banner township of old Allen, will come out in November with a rousing democratic majority.

A. M. Harrod, of Fort Wayne, spent the Fourth with friends in this city. The game of ball on the morning of the Fourth between the Models and the Originals resulted in a score of 16 to 15 in favor of the Originals.

The band boys gave a grand ball on the Fourth in Heller's hall. It was a decided success.

Mrs. M. Baker has purchased from D. S. Bedelheimer, the millinery store formerly kept by F. J. Gardner, who left the town last week. Mr. Gardner, of Cincinnati, came to our quiet little burg one year ago and engaged extensively in the millinery business. In company with him was a young lady whom he claimed to be his wife, but a few months ago she left this place and has not been seen since. After the departure of his "alleged wife" he moved very high with our best young society girls until a few weeks ago, when a rumor of a detrimental nature was afloat in our village, pertaining to Mr. G., and a number of our little misses, whose names we will reserve. This state of affairs continued, going from bad to worse, when finally a request, signed by our best citizens, was handed Gardner, requesting him to leave town by Monday, June 30, which he promptly did Saturday, June 28, after selling his establishment to D. S. Bedelheimer.

On the afternoon of the Fourth a game of ball between the Originals, of this place, and the Shadows was played. Probably this was the best game ever played in the place. The Shadows came out victorious by a score of 12 to 9. The manager of the Originals has since secured a number of the best players in the country, and will do up the Shadows in the near future. Mr. John Heller, of the recorder's office, plays first base with the Originals.

J. W. Smith gave a grand ball near his place of business on the Fourth. Mr. Lewis, the junior partner of the firm of Lewis & Bros., had his hand badly burned on the evening of the Fourth by an explosion of fireworks which he was handling at the time.

In an advertisement elsewhere Sam, Pete & Max offer a prize of $25 to the person filling out the presidential electoral list as near correct as the official will be. This is a novel scheme and affords opportunity for nice political figuring.
Paymaster Shepherd, of the Wabash, carries with him this month two pay rolls, one of the company prior to the road dropping into the hands of a receiver, the other the receiver's pay roll for the few days of May the road was under them.
Dr. H. V. Swearingen sends The Sentinel the second annual report of the state board of health of Indiana for the year ending October 31, 1883. Dr. Swearingen has an able article on health in the report which will be referred to at length in the future.
Richmond Palladium: "The veteran soldiers of this state propose holding an encampment some time in September. The exact time and place has not yet been determined. A committee of that organization was here looking at the Glen for that purpose, but it is not probable this place will be selected, for the reason that Fort Wayne is offering liberal inducements to have them come there."
GRAND ENCAMPMENT.
The Fort Wayne Military Company decides to participate in the forthcoming—Other Notes of the Great Fete.
Last night the Fort Wayne Military company, composed entirely of veterans, received an invitation from the executive committee of the Veterans' Association of Northern Indiana, to attend the grand encampment in this city on August 22, 23, 24 and 25. The invitation was unanimously accepted, and Captain Rohan was requested to correspond with the colonel of the First regiment Indiana militia and use his utmost endeavors to get the regiment to go into camp in this city during the reunion. Captain Rohan and Lieutenants Welden and Barnard attended the encampment of the Second regiment at Richmond last week and are enthusiastic for an encampment here. They say that though but 700 militia were in attendance, at the present time the executive committee are positive that over 9,000 soldiers will go into camp here in August, and all the funds necessary have been guaranteed them. They have mapped out a plan by which a thorough organization will be effected in the twenty northeastern counties of this state and the hearty co-operation of the leading soldiers, grand army posts and military companies is assured.
A FAREING TOUCH.
John Houser, a Ligonor citizen, robbed of $25, a watch and his Girl's Picture—The Felony Makes a Vigorous Kick.
John Houser, an innocent looking fellow from Ligonor, took in the circus last night, and then the circus took in Mr. Houser. He was lingering about the south depot late last night and some fellow relieved him of all responsibility, a roll of greenbacks amounting to $38, a silver watch and chain and picture of his sweetheart, Capt. Hugh M. Delph happened to be at the depot at the time and to him the sleepy rascal related his grievances. J. F. Boynton, detective for Robinson, was also present, but could do nothing, as the Ligonor man did not have the faintest idea who robbed him. He went home a wiser man.

TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1894.

LOCAL NEWS.

An affidavit was filed against a fellow named Ruppel this morning for striking old Sam Gordon last Saturday.

Fredericka Beck was taken to the City hospital this morning. She suffers from brain fever and is a servant maid.

A permit has been granted to A. Grot-holtzman to erect a one-story frame house on lot 99, north side addition, at a cost of $400.

Dr. Carl Meyer, of Barr street, left last night for Germany, where he will remain the guest of his old friends for several months.

Carl F. Espechade, Mifflintown, Juniata county, Pa., writes that he was injured severely, but by applying St. Jacobs Oil, he was cured at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoag and the Misses Louise and Rosa Hoag, of Adrian, Mich., who had been visiting friends in this city, returned home this morning.

There are 400 Fort Wayne people at Chicago to-day. Last night the Jeffersonian club, 250 strong, went to Chicago.

At noon to-day another delegation left for the scene of the democratic deliberations. To-night another party leave here for Chicago.

This morning a boy six or seven years old, the son of a Lafayette street barber, was run over by a grocer's wagon and his face frightfully mangled. His body was also bruised, and the boy is in pretty bad shape as this is the third time he has been squeezed by a wagon. Dr. J. M. Dinnen dressed the little fellow's wounds.

One of the most distressing forms of rheumatic diseases is sciatica, but Atholpore has proved its efficacy in dealing with that complaint, as in every form of rheumatism or neuritis. Writes Rev. O. M. Heard, of Neenah, Wis.: "I have received the bottle of your great remedy and my wife has taken it for a rheumatic affection of her hip-joint. She did not suffer pain constantly, but only on making certain movements. She was, after taking about half the bottle, greatly relieved, so that she could make the movements without pain, which before she could not."

The indications for the lower lake region as reported to THE SENTINEL by the weather bureau at Washington are as follows: Fair weather, followed in the western portion by increasing cloudiness and local rains, variable winds, generally from the east, in the western portion a slight change in temperature.

Petroleum V. Nasby.
D. R. Locke, Petroleum V. Nasby, editor Toledo Blade, writes: "I had on a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pets, a 'run-round.' The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me Henry's carbolic salve, and in twenty minutes the pain had so much subsided as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had before a week. The inflammation left the finger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article."

John B. Morgan and Alce J. Williams will wed.

Bed-Bugs, Flies:
Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, gophers, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough on Rats."

Frank Roy has been visiting in Logansport.

Life Preserver.
If you are losing your grip on life try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

General Manager A. A. Talmage and son, of the Wabash, visited the company's works here before 7 o'clock this morning. They came on a special en route to New York.

Mothers.
If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous use "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

Deputy Auditor Frank Chapman is taking a vacation. He will spend some time in Adams township swinging the festive grain cradle.

Voni, Vidi, Vici—I came, I saw, I conquered.—Is adapted to Allen's Bile Beans Physic. It quickly relieves constipation, piles, sick headache, etc., 25 cts. At all druggists.

John Lowlow, of Robinson's show, made us a pleasant visit this morning.

Boats, Bicycles and Hay Fever.
With the opening of the season of outdoor sports comes the time of trouble for the poor victims of hay fever. For them flowers have no odor, and the summer little or no beauty. To sniff, sneeze and wipe their weeping eyes for three or four successive months—this is their pitiable portion. There is no help in seawayage, there is no help in high mountain air. These only lighten the pocket and leave the disease unabated. But there is a positive cure in Ely's cream balm. Try it. If you continue to suffer it is because you neglect a remedy as sure as it is cheap and pleasant.

The Retired Young Men's Christian Association.

The average attendance at the rooms of the railroad Young Men's Christian association for the first six days has been sixty-five. The religious services on Sunday afternoon were well attended and was an earnest and enjoyable meeting.

The room committee expects to have the bath rooms ready by next Monday. They are pushing the work as rapidly as possible. Sustaining members should get their membership tickets by that time, as they cannot get a bath without them. The tickets are ready for all who have given in their names. Apply for them to the secretary, D. F. More, at the rooms day or evening.

Some beautiful flowers have been presented to grace the windows of the reading room. There is room for more of them. Thirty-five volumes have been presented to the library already.

The month of roses, with its soft breezes, is budding blossoms and its delicious perfumes, is sometimes apt to fill your prudence into forgetfulness. Sudden changes of temperature, especially at night, necessitate some care and caution, from which you can hardly depart without experiencing some indisposition and often serious illness. In such cases Pond's extract is invaluable. Dr. Preston, of Brooklyn, writes: "I know of no remedy so generally useful in a family. Taken internally and externally, it cools, soothes and cures inflammations of every sort, and controls and subdues all kinds of hemorrhages."

Attention, First Voters First Ward.
You are requested to meet Wednesday evening, July 9, at Linderman's hall to perfect organization.

WILLIAM KAUGH, Committeeman.

Little Speaks
In the sinuses of the teeth soon grow into appalling cavities, if disregarded. Check advancing decay at the outset with SOZODONT, and the pain of toothache, the wretchedness of eating with unsound teeth, and the dyspeptic symptoms caused by swallowing half masticated food may be prevented. This aromatic and salutary article perfumes the breath, and remedies sponginess of the gums. Its popularity is unbounded.

August Strubel, of Detroit, who was visiting friends here, left for his home last night.

For seven years Allen's Brain Food has stood the strongest test as to its merits in curing nervousness, nervous debility and restoring lost powers to the weakened generative system, and in no instance, has it ever failed; test it. $1; 5 for $5.—At druggists or by mail from J. H. Allen, 315 Fifth Ave., New York City.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. leodaily.

A CARD.
To who are suffering from the errors and in-discretion of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, free of charge. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph A. Baker, Station D, New York City. Oct. 2nd 1894.

Agent, who will cheerfully answer communications relating to the same. 314

LYON'S KOZOTHUM.

A Gift to the Gray and a Boon to the Bald!

BEFORE USING. AFTER USING.

Lyon's Kozothium is not a dye, but a clear, fragrant oil, and acts purely as a tonic to the hair follicles and capillary circulation of the scalp, whereby it restores the natural action, and as a result

RESTORES THE NATURAL COLOR
To the hair, rendering it soft and beautiful. This wonderful remedy, unlike all the preparations ore, is ENTIRELY FREE FROM SULPHUR, NITRATE or SILVER.

And all noxious and deleterious chemicals. It has fast friends wherever known and used.
It deposits no sediment upon the scalp, does not stain the skin nor soil the most delicate fabric, and is
